

Ching-Yun Hu, piano

Winner/Audience Favorite Prize, 12th Rubinstein International Piano Competition, Israel
Winner, Concert Artists Guild Competition

“a superb pianist...sensitive musician”

“first class talent... poetic use of color and confidently expressive phrasing...”

- Philadelphia Inquirer

"Critical praise has followed her around the world."

- International Piano Magazine (London, UK)

“...that elusive superstar quality that everybody looks for.. Musical, energetic and full of flair...”

- Jerusalem Post

"Super star pianist..."

- Bravo TV

“Five Stars”

“...essential listening for Rachmaninoff admirers.”

- Pianist Magazine (London, UK)

“Ching-Yun Hu: Rachmaninoff” Centaur/Naxos recording

“Ching-Yun Hu has everything you need in the pianistic league... in Rachmaninoff Sonata
No.2, she exposes an emotional structure that is transparent and moving.”

- Süddeutsche Zeitung (Germany)

“Ching-Yun Hu literally brought down the house.”

- Cincinnati Post

“...a player willing to stand outside of the box with a distinctive resolve. Her accurate musical phrasing of Chopin’s A minor Study would put most performers to shame.”

- The Irish Times